UPPCO Directs Public to Website for Bond Falls Hydroelectric Data
Information About Utility's Other Hydro Projects Also Available

Marquette – Upper Peninsula Power Company recommends recreational enthusiasts looking for operational information on the Bond Falls Hydroelectric Developments to use the utility's website instead of the toll-free phone number which has been discontinued as part of UPPCO's transition.

To access UPPCO's hydroelectric operational information visit www.uppco.com and click on the Hydroelectric Project Data icon. At this website location the public will find data, updated every 10 minutes, on water levels and flows for the Bond Falls, Prickett, Dead River and Escanaba Hydroelectric Projects.

UPPCO officials also urged the public to continue keeping safety at the forefront when visiting its hydroelectric projects to recreate, recognizing that they are operational and active in generating renewable energy on a regular basis.
